Banks for Elite-Combo and Nationwide Best

In the previous newsletter we explained the concept of single bank to bet both Nationwide and Elite Combo. That section is repeated at the end of today's newsletter.
On Saturday, your bet list looked like this:

1) Betting from one bank 60:40 Elite Combo to Nationwide, the result was + $480 net profit from a total outlay of $582.
   This is a super-conservative application of a $10,000 bank. The biggest bet you would ever have would be $120 if an Elite Combo was listed as $200. Ie 2.0% of the $6,000 bank allocated to Elite Combo.

2) To keep it simple, albeit a bit riskier, you could simply bet ALL qualifiers, as listed, from both Nationwide and Elite Combo. You could be backing the same horse twice.
   That result (also shown above) on Saturday was + $1,123 net profit from $1,180 invested (+ 95%)

3) To keep it simple AND safe, simply bet each unique Nat/Elite Combo qualifier as listed.

Nationwide-Best is performing well with 10 of the past 17 meets (since July 11th) making profits averaging $428.
The Nationwide net profit in that period is + $2,098.

35 winners from 97 bets = 36% winners.

When you add in the $370 net profit during the same period for the $100 level midweek bets, the Nationwide capital gain is 24.68%.

In October so far, we have had 10 wins and a further 13 2nds/3rds from the 27 bets.
85% are coming a place!

Considering the degree of difficulty during these highly competitive spring races, that is a great number.

Added Value for Platinum and Nationwide Members

There has been a lot of feedback from members who are cashing in on the overall accuracy of the Nationwide ratings sheets.
We have compiled a record of recent meetings to demonstrate what extra valuable possibilities are available to Nationwide members (for just $25 per week or as part of your Platinum membership).

There are 80 races over ten meetings.

We have noted where the winner was rated (1 = Top Rated), the winner's dividend, then the successful box-5 Exacta, Trifecta and First-4.

If the quaddie was found in ratings, then that is included.

68 of the 80 rated races had the winner rated. That's 85% races where we found the winner.

50% of the races had the winner in the Top-2. Most reputable services strive for high 30%'s in the top-2.

So, obviously that's a great foundation for the multi-bets;

49 Exactas up to $144.

39 Trifectas up to $3,260.

22 First-4's up to $5,411.

Three quaddies from the 10 meetings, one paid $8,600.

Massive Melbourne Multis

Taking this a bit further, let's look at Melbourne Pro-Ratings Sheets (Not Nationwide) for October. In recent newsletters we discussed the Multi betting strategy. Instructions are included on each raceday message for Mel and Syd as well as detailed step by step in your intro-pak

There have been 36 Elite-Rated races in October. Below is a list of successful multis using our recommended strategy.

It shows 24 successful Exactas, Trifectas and First-4's. That's a 67% success rate!

Banks for Elite-Combo and Nationwide Best (Repeated from previous newsletter)

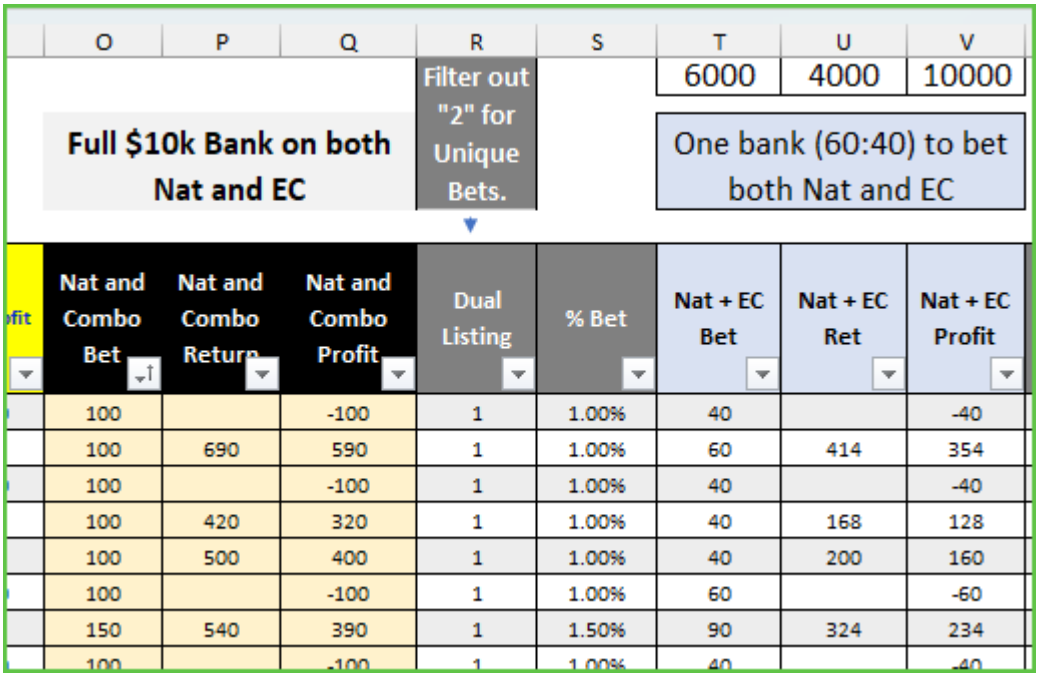

Platinum members are in the great position where they can apply banks to Elite-Combo and Nationwide Best. This concept was covered in great detail some time ago.
Elite-Combo is producing nearly double the profit of Nationwide over the long-term.
To set up a single bank to bet all qualifiers from both plans, allocation of total funds around 60% Elite Combo and 40% Nationwide would be prudent.

The pdf and spreadsheet provided should help with any decision to apply separate banks for each strategy or one bank for both.

By the way, as promised last week, all spreadsheets and PDFs are up to date online.
That includes the Nat+Elite Combo data.

This snippet from your excel spreadsheet shows:
a) Nat and Combo bet (full $10k bank bets on both) as well as
b) 60:40 single $10k bank for all qualifiers from both plans.
